

Resources for information about organ and tissue donation

The following organizations will help you learn more about organ, tissue and eye donation, and will provide information and website links to other sites concerning donation and transplantation.

LifeSource

www.Life-Source.org

The non-profit organization dedicated to saving lives through organ and tissue donation in the Upper Midwest, serving communities in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and portions of western Wisconsin.

Donate Life America

www.DonateLife.net

National information about organ and tissue donation, including how to register as a donor in each state.

Association of Organ Procurement Organizations (AOPO)

www.aopo.org

AOPO represents and serves organ procurement organizations (OPOs) to help maximize the availability of organs and tissues for transplantation and enhance the quality, effectiveness and integrity of the donation process.

United Network for Organ Sharing (UNOS)

www.unos.org

UNOS manages the national transplant waiting list and offers comprehensive information and statistics about donation, transplants, current issues and developments.

American Association of Tissue Banks (AATB)

www.aatb.org

A non-profit organization that facilitates the provision of high quality transplantable human tissue.

Eye Bank Association of America (EBAA)

www.RestoreSight.org

A non-profit organization of eye banks dedicated to the restoration of sight; also accredits Eye Banks in the United States.

Department of Health and Human Services Organ Donation Website

www.OrganDonor.gov

US Government information about organ and tissue donation and transplantation, including current initiatives.