Land Acknowledgement

The land on which the LifeSource Office stands in Minneapolis is the ancestral land of the Seven Council Fires Dakhóta People, specifically Wahpekute (wa-HE-coot) Nation. Additionally, our Sioux Falls, South Dakota office sits on Yankton Nation land and our facility in Rochester, Minnesota on Wahpeton Nation land. Both nations of the Dakhóta People.

In respect of this knowledge, LifeSource has adopted a practice of recognizing the deep and enduring relationship between Indigenous people and the land we call the United States. This practice acknowledges the historical and current practices that results in the marginalization, displacement, and extermination of Indigenous people in our region. Our consistent recognition demonstrates our respect for the people of the 23 sovereign Indigenous Nations in our designated service area.
